

Cancer Nurses Society of Australia

PARTNERSHIPS AND ADVERTISING

The united voice of cancer nurses in Australia.

A letter from the CEO

Dear Industry Partner,

At CNSA, we believe in the power of collaboration and its transformative impact on the healthcare landscape. We are excited about the prospect of working closely with industry partners to advance our shared goals of delivering the best possible care to those affected by cancer.

Effective partnerships are built on mutual benefit, and we are committed to ensuring that our collaborations with industry are impactful and meaningful. We recognise that each organisation is unique, which is why we work closely with our partners to tailor packages that deliver real benefits and directly support our membership. As a not-for-profit organisation, partnerships are vital to our mission, and we are dedicated to making them a success for all parties involved.

The opportunities outlined in this prospectus offer unique avenues for collaboration and engagement with our committed membership, via our proven and established channels. I invite you to explore them and consider how we can work together to make a meaningful difference in the lives of cancer nurses, people affected by cancer and their families.

Working with CNSA provides you with access to a diverse audience of cancer nurses working across Australia, in a structured and engaging way. Our membership represents key decision-makers and the largest professional group in the cancer workforce, and we provide access to these experts through our partnerships.

With 85% of our membership reporting high workload as their most pressing concern, it's important we work in tandem to support them.

Together, I am confident that we can achieve great things.

Warm regards,

Jemma Still

CEO, Cancer Nurses Society of Australia

About our Members

Why engage with cancer nurses?

Cancer nurses play a pivotal role in educating both people affected by cancer and their colleagues and peers with knowledge about treatment options and medication management.

Cancer nurses are also a powerful influence in shaping health system policy that contributes to improved health outcomes and equity.

Cancer nurses are experts in the delivery of cancer care in Australia, through their daily interactions in the healthcare system.

Cancer nurses can provide valuable insights into unmet clinical needs and gaps in care and understand the factors that shape real-world medication adherence and efficacy.

Cancer nurses are involved across the cancer control continuum so are experts in clinical trials, medication management, and person-centred care.

Engaging cancer nurses to understand their insights and real-world experiences can help elevate your strategy and will ultimately contribute to improved outcomes for all people affected by cancer.

By engaging with CNSA you can access the largest cancer care workforce in Australia.

- + Our members work across all healthcare workplaces in Australia, with representation in metropolitan, regional, rural, and remote areas.
- + Our members are professionals with all levels of expertise, from novice to expert cancer nurse. This diverse group includes nurse practitioners/candidates, nurse consultants, nurse unit managers, cancer care coordinators, clinical nurses, registered nurses, enrolled nurses, nurse educators, and individuals in supportive care roles.
- + Our members are employed across public, private and not-for-profit healthcare settings, caring for people affected by cancer with varying levels of acuity. They deliver care in community, primary care and hospital settings.
- + Our members work across all facets of cancer nursing, including medical oncology, surgical oncology, radiation oncology, haematology, and palliative and supportive care settings.

Webinars and Podcasts

Education opportunities

TUNE IN TUESDAY WEBINARS

Delivered almost every Tuesday night between February to November, our hugely popular 'Tune in Tuesday' webinars aim to be practical, interactive, and case-based and are popular for their conversational and engaging nature.

Average webinar registrations are between 120 – 150 participants, with all sessions recorded and available for nurses to watch in their own time via on-demand learning. This means your content reaches a wider national audience than just those attendees who participate on the night.

Sponsorship provides an opportunity for a two-minute speaking slot, the option to provide additional information and resources by email post-webinar, and access to the webinar recording for internal use

Exclusive webinar sponsorship $4,500 + GST

NURSING EXCELLENCE IN CANCER CARE PODCAST

Looking to promote a key message on a specific therapeutic topic? Our new podcast is the ideal platform. This channel is a popular way to engage with busy cancer nurses looking for short and sharp practical takeaways on the latest innovations and technology relevant to their practice, knowledge and understanding.

Episodes to date have focused on the evolving treatment landscape and patient management strategies.

Our membership has embraced this platform, with episodes already attracting an average of 360 listens. As an exclusive sponsor of an episode, you receive recognition across all CNSA promotional channels. This rapidly growing channel is limited to only 12 sponsorship slots annually.

Exclusive podcast sponsorship $15,000 + GST

“Excellent speakers and well presented. Delivered by nurses for nurses.

The whole presentation was fantastic, definitely increased my knowledge, will watch again and share with colleagues.

These webinars are very valuable, especially for those of us who work regionally as there is not much face-to-face education offered in regional centres.

CANCER NURSE PRACTITIONER SPECIALIST PRACTICE NETWORK

Our Cancer Nurse Practitioner Specialist Practice Network (CNP SPN) is a group of over 100 nurse practitioners, candidates or students studying towards endorsement, who also hold regular events throughout the year. Interested in sponsoring a CNP SPN event and engaging with expert clinical nursing leaders in cancer care? Contact us to find out more.

CNSA ANNUAL CONGRESS

Our annual Congress attracts around 600 delegates working in cancer nursing from across Australia. Our Congress aims to showcase innovations and advancements in clinical practice and research in cancer nursing, with a program that features a mix of keynote speakers from a wide range of disciplines, nurse-led research, oral and poster presentations, sponsored symposia from industry, and opportunities for networking and engagement. There are many ways to engage in our Congress – speak to us to find out more.

LOCAL EVENTS

Collaboration with industry partners allows our state groups to host regular professional development events nationwide throughout the year. Interested in joining us at a local level? Reach out to learn more about how you can get involved.

CNSA Cancer Nurses Day

Save the date for CNSA's inaugural Cancer Nurses Day, a day dedicated to honouring and celebrating the invaluable contributions of cancer nurses nationwide.

Cancer Nurses Day will take place on Thursday 15 August, and is our chance to shed light on the incredible work being done by the 7,500 cancer nurses nationwide and champion their remarkable contributions to improve patient outcomes in Australia.

Our theme for this year is 'Strong, Skilled, Specialised', recognising our workforce for what they are.

- + Strong in support.
- + Skilled in practice.
- + Specialised in knowledge.

HOW CAN ORGANISATIONS GET INVOLVED?

We're inviting everyone to get involved – from local health districts to day oncology units, Comprehensive Cancer Centres through to regional clinics. We're looking for support from employers, consumers, government, not-for-profit organisations and the wider medical profession to recognise the integral role that Cancer Nurses play in the healthcare system. Talk to us about how your organisation can get involved in the inaugural Cancer Nurses Day.

cnsa.org.au/cancernursesday

When you partner with CNSA, you're not just aligning with an organisation; you're directly supporting a dedicated workforce of cancer nurses and sharing a commitment aimed at positively impacting the lives of those affected by cancer.

Our partnerships are about building lasting relationships based on trust, respect, and shared goals. We're open to tailoring unique packages and exploring fresh approaches to support our members and the cancer nursing workforce more broadly.
